

leading strategic action on climate and sustainability short course

As a leader you will know the need to ensure Sustainability & Environmental, Social Governance (ESG) aims are deeply embedded into your business strategy, operations and value chains.

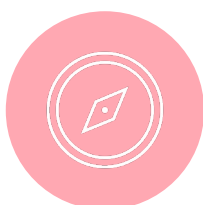

Set yourself on the path to lead and integrate sustainability initiatives into your work context, through resetting your compass and valuing an abundant mindset.

Sign up for the Leading Strategic Action on Climate and Sustainability short course for senior executives of multinational organisations in Australia.

This short course is for you if your ambition is to:

Lead change with confidence through your role with sustainability or ESG lens

Start or reset your organisational compass on a pathway to make a real difference

Learn cutting edge sustainability trends and transformative business strategies

Navigate complexity to transform risks into strategic opportunities specific to Australia

Shape, evaluate, fast track and monitor the generation of positive pursuits for planet, prosperity and wellbeing what makes this Sydney short course unique?

Highly interactive workshops to enable you to apply sustainability concepts and tools to your organisation

Tailored coaching sessions with peers and mentors offering ongoing learning and support

Focus on leading edge sustainability insights and practices enabling rapid capability uplift what will you learn?

1

Know how to interpret the dynamic and complex sustainability issues that impact organisations.

2

Construct an action plan tailored to the sustainability opportunities that matter most in and across your value chain.

4

Stay connected with mentors and peer changemakers to regenerate positive momentum.

3

Reset your mind through identifying the capabilities and skills you have and need to master.

about the short course

The short course, designed and delivered by PLUS UTS Business Futures in collaboration with Abundium multinational leadership community, includes access to all course material, on-campus workshops, facilitated coaching and mentoring sessions, a kick-off launch and graduation sessions.

Additionally, participants are invited to bring up to two members of their organisation to Workshop 4 to engage in collective reflection on the impact of their initiatives and to address next steps.

explore your learning journey

meet your facilitators

Dr Melissa (Mel) Edwards

Lead UTS Facilitator

Mel Edwards is the Director of the Executive MBA program at UTS Business School. She currently serves as the inaugural Climate Action fellow for the Australian Business Deans Council. She researches and teaches about sustainable enterprise and responsible management, complexity theory, and social impact. Her work draws across disciplines with an overarching aim to understand how people organise, learn and adapt to enable sustainable transitions.

profiles.uts.edu.au/Melissa.Edwards www.linkedin.com/in/meledwards1/

Dani Matthews

Abundium Coaching Facilitator

Dani Matthews is Chief Impact Officer at Abundium who is on a mission of tenfolding leadership impact to create an abundant world. She recently completed a Cambridge University Business and Climate Change: Towards Net Zero Emissions course which further fueled her desire to make a positive impact. Dani leads a cross-industry 'Climate Warriors' community and 'Leapfrog' tribe of multinational sustainability leaders on a mission to inspire action in Australia on the road to net zero.

www.linkedin.com/in/matthewsdani/

Register your interest at info.abundium.com/leapfrog
Want to know more? Contact Dani Matthews at dani@abundium.com